- (c) the status is active; and

A minimum payment equal to one month of premium for the Policy joined is required prior to the Policy start date. Corporate customers may be considered financial prior to an invoice being raised.

nib/IMAN may in its discretion organise special arrangements with sponsors and agents where payment is delayed.

The start date of a Policy may be adjusted to align with:

- (a) the date the applicant arrives in Australia (this is applicable to visas that are approved offshore), or
- (b) the visa start date (this is applicable to visas that are approved onshore).

If an application for a policy is withdrawn prior to arrival in Australia or prior to start date if the applicant is onshore an administration fee may apply.

LV2.4.1 Risk Assessing

Categorised as health related business, nib/IMAN is not subject to community rating and can therefore choose not to underwrite individuals determined to have a high likelihood to incur high claims costs.

nib/IMAN will undertake a Risk Assessing process by examining Pre-Existing Conditions of new applicants, Policy Holders who reactivate their Policies after a suspension of 6 months or more, or Policy Holders who change Products or Policies. nib/IMAN will also undertake a Risk Assessing process in reviewing claims from current Policy Holders and determining whether those claims are a result of an undisclosed Pre-Existing Condition at the date of join.

nib/IMAN can choose not to insure (and in appropriate cases reject claims) based on the Risk Assessing Process.

The applicant or Policy Holder has an obligation or duty to disclose to nib/IMAN any information that is requested by nib/IMAN which it needs to decide whether and on what terms an application for cover is accepted and to assess the Premium payable for the Policy. The applicant or Policy Holder must provide honest and complete answers and must tell nib/IMAN everything that they know or that a reasonable person in the circumstances could be expected to know. If the Policy Holder does not comply with this duty of disclosure, nib/IMAN may cancel the Policy or reduce the amount that it pays for a claim. If fraud is involved, nib/IMAN may treat the Policy as if it never existed and pay nothing

LV2.4.2 Risk Rating

Risk Rating is different from Risk Assessing in that Risk Assessing is a review process for Pre-existing Conditions to determine whether to accept or reject the applicant (or a claim), whereas Risk Rating is a process for setting Premiums for an applicant or Policy Holder according to their wider claims risk profile.

Risk Rating means undertaking a review of an applicant or a Policy Holder that proposes to be covered under a Policy, to determine the likelihood of a medical event occurring and the likely claims impact.

nib/IMAN determines the Premium payable by that applicant or Policy Holder by starting with the base rate for the relevant Product and scale in accordance with Schedule K1. The base rate is adjusted upwards or downwards depending on the customer's risk profile. This is determined by considering several factors such as Pre-existing Conditions, age, gender and family size.

Risk Rating enables nib/IMAN to accept high risk customers and price the policy accordingly, instead of outright rejecting the application for cover. This will enable nib/IMAN to also price more competitively for low risk customers.

Risk Rating complements Risk Assessment to enhance risk management within nib/IMAN and applies to both new and existing customers.

nib/IMAN may determine that employees, officers or contractors of a particular business will be risk rated by considering the risk profile of the group and Premiums for each Product may be set to apply only to that group.

An Insured Person who transfers from one product (previous Cover) to another product (new Cover) or transfers another Australian insurer to nib/IMAN must serve all Waiting Periods which apply to the new Cover and did not apply to the previous Cover, together with the balance of any Waiting Periods which apply to both the previous Cover and the new Cover but were not served under the previous Cover.
